CLAN MACPHERSON ASSOCIATION AFRICA BRANCH NEWSLETTER # 6

Dear Member,

The wheel of time has turned and once again Christmas rapidly approaches! I would like to take this opportunity to wish you a joyful festive season and a peaceful, prosperous 2018.

The Clan Macpherson Association across the globe has had another busy year with a successful Rally in Badenoch in August 2017 organized by an extremely dedicated central leadership. One of the highlights of this year's Gathering was the presentation to Cluny of a beautiful silver tray and two salvers in honour and appreciation of Cluny's service to and leadership of the Clan for so many years. The tray was the brainchild of Allan Macpherson-Fletcher who was the driving force behind the raising of £6000 from CMA members across the world to make the purchase. The tray was engraved with Cluny's Arms and the following words: "Presented to The Hon Sir William Macpherson of Cluny and Blairgowrie TD QC By members of the Clan Macpherson Association in recognition of his devotion and service to the Clan August 2017". In addition to this a booklet was presented to Cluny containing all the comments that accompanied each donation to the cause. Cluny was very moved upon receiving the gift and expressed his appreciation to all gathered.

At the AGM of the Clan Macpherson Association on Saturday the 5th of August 2017 the Africa Branch Annual Report was delivered to those members present. I have copied the report into the attachments of this newsletter much as it will appear in Creag Dhubh. I have also included the latest newsletters from the Australian and Canadian Branches of CMA that are informative, interesting and testament to the vigour of our Clan!

Africa News: Ewen Macpherson's 80th Birthday

Congratulations are in order for Ewen Macpherson of Namitete who turned 80 on the 27th of November 2017. The event was celebrated with the gathering of locally resident family and the immediate farming community. A bush walk on Kanongo Estate was followed by good food, beverage and company at Ewen and Jenny's home! We wish the Africa Branch's youngest octogenarian many years of health and joy ahead!

Right: Ewen Macpherson continues to farm energetically in Namitete Malawi

CLAN MACPHERSON ASSOCIATION AFRICA BRANCH ANNUAL REPORT 2017

Cluny, Lady Hilary, Madam Chair, Cousins and Clansmen,

It is with distinct regret that I cannot deliver this report to you in person this year. My thanks are due to the person who has been nominated to present it on my behalf.

My first duty is to convey very warm salaams to the Association from the Africa Branch. No doubt this year's Rally and attendant activities will be supported by and enjoyed with usual Macpherson vigour!

Africa Branch Membership

I am delighted to inform you that the Africa Branch membership has increased by nearly 12% this year with the addition of three new Life Members. Congratulations are due to Shannon, Morgan and Meren Macpherson who became Life Members of the Association just after the last AGM. Regrettably one annual member has lapsed in the interim. Our membership profile now rests at 18 Life Members and 1 Associate Life Member.

Branch Activity

Due to the large distances between members in Africa, personal meetings are rare. Consequently most of the Branch activity is limited to communication by newsletter and notices. This year we have seen less communication than last year, caused primarily by an unfortunate accident that I sustained at the end of September 2016. While conducting an aerial surveillance patrol searching for poached elephants in Thuma Forest Reserve, Malawi, the motor of our gyrocopter failed. I was forced to land the aircraft in inhospitable, wooded terrain. In the process I shattered both of my heel bones and spent ten weeks in hospital in Johannesburg and several more months recovering at home. I am very pleased to report that I am now well on the mend and the Africa Branch can look forward to being better informed in the future!

In May this year, one of our local schools in Lilongwe, ABC Academy put on a ballet concert that told the story of the reformed slave trader John Newton. Morgan and Meren Macpherson participated in a number of scenes, the penultimate of which was accompanied by Amazing Grace on the pipes, played by me. Macpherson tartan continues to be worn with pride in Central Africa!

In early June Shannon and I attended my thirty year school reunion at St Andrews College in Grahamstown, South Africa. Part of the festivities included a school cadet parade. The parade, while convened for other reasons, was nevertheless reminiscent of these young men's predecessors who in 1901 turned out to help defend Grahamstown against the Boer Commando led by Generals Smuts and Kritzinger. The June parade featured the St Andrews College Pipe Band and three cadet platoons, all kilted in Graham tartan. It was a nostalgic moment for me as this is where I learnt to play the pipes. On the day I was proud to witness nephew Iain Macpherson, who attends St Andrews College with his brother Craig, participate in the parade.

Tribute To Michael Robert Nasmyth Macpherson 15 September 1917 - 28 June 2017

I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to Michael Robert Nasmyth Macpherson. In early 1917 Michael's father, Major Robert Macpherson, was commanding his regiment as Acting Lieutenant Colonel in the 1914-1919 Tanganyikan campaign against the German General von Lettow-Vorbeck. On the 18th of April 1917, at the age of 37 and whilst "leading a gallant attack" Major Robert Macpherson was tragically killed at a place called Behobeho on the Rufiji River in what is today the Selous Game Reserve.

Jennifer Gilbert, who is Michael's step-granddaughter, tells me that Michael's mother, Mary, upon hearing of her husband's death sailed to the Cape to be with her family. Michael was born in South Africa on the 15th of September 1917 five months after his father was killed. As a young boy Michael travelled with his family to Uganda by bullock train. I have no doubt that that would have been a tremendous adventure! Sometime later Michael moved to Kenya where he is recorded as being a member of the Kenya Regiment (Number KR 206).

Having lived a long and eventful life Michael passed away on the 28th of June 2017 just two and half months short of becoming a centenarian. His funeral took place at St Luke's Anglican Church in Howick, KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa.

We honour his memory.

Final words

Before closing I would like to mention that we have been made aware of the trial that Torquil Le Roy-Lewis, Cluny's grandson, has been facing with his diagnosis of non-Hodgkins lymphoma. Our thoughts and prayers are with him and all of his family at this time. We are rooting strongly for a full recovery!

Thank you!

Derek Macpherson

The Cluny Presentation.

Allan Macpherson-Fletcher, the convenor has reported to Branches after the recent Gathering, that the presentation went tremendously well. Allan said; 'Cluny was most moved and has sent me a charming letter following the presentation.'

Allan went on; 'Following worldwide support we raised a total of £6,000 which was enough to purchase a beautiful silver tray and 2 salvers to present to Cluny and his son Jamie and daughter Annie. Please pass on my thanks to all those in Australia who contributed so generously towards this cause.'

The Salver being put to good use at Newton Castle!

The idea for the presentation came after last year's Platinum Dhubh when it was felt by many that Cluny had done so much for the Clan that it was time to give him a gift as a thank you, and recognise his service at home and to the diaspora. The appeal raised enough money to approach Iain Marr, a well known silversmith in Beauly near Inverness, who sourced a fine Victorian tray and two silver salvers. These were then sent to Robert Giddings in London who is a Master Engraver and Member of the Goldsmiths' Company. An approach to the Lord Lyon ensured that we had the correct matriculated arms of Cluny which are personal to him. These were beautifully copied by Robert together with an inscription which read:

Presented to

The Hon Sir William Macpherson of Cluny and Blairgowrie TD QC

By members of the Clan Macpherson Association in recognition of his devotion and service to the Clan

August 2017

Allan continued; 'The presentation took place just before dinner at the Ball on Friday 4th August, and I thanked Cluny for his hard work over the years which had resulted in such a united and loyal Clan. I stressed how much it was a family affair and firstly presented a salver to Jamie and then to Annie's daughter Eliza, as Annie sadly couldn't be present on the night. Then Cluny accepted his salver and made a charming reply thanking everyone for the gift.'

Allan concluded his report thus; 'Thank you and all the Clansmen in Australia for their help and generosity in giving our Chief a present to thank him for his leadership. A booklet containing all the comments and good wishes to Cluny was also printed and bound and presented to him.'

A Queensland CMA Tent at Scotland in the Park, Greenbank, QLD.

A full day of Scottish events including pipe bands, entertainment, Scottish stalls and more at Middle Green Sports Complex. June 2017.

Sandy Macpherson reported;

'A brief report to let you know that Sunita and I took our Clan Macpherson tent and did Scotland in the Park at Greenbank yesterday. This being Queensland, of course the weather was perfect, with clear blue skies and 24 degrees on a warm and windless day. Attendances seemed pretty good between 10.00am and 2.00pm but I guess we will see the final figures in the local paper later in the week. There were about a dozen clan tents, scattered throughout the trade exhibits and others of general interest. We had the Stewarts for neighbours and very hospitable they turned out to be. They had a fairly lavish exhibit, which gave me a few ideas for any subsequent activity of this type, and a few samples of whiskies from their area to tickle the tastebuds.

Not really knowing what to expect, I was quite surprised to find some Macpherson interest and fielded about 18 enquiries from various people with Macphersons in their family line, or people from the various associated families. I heard a great story from one lady who had researched a mysterious Macpherson antecedent with surprising results.

I gave away a few applications and the copies of the newsletter that you sent, so we shall have to wait and see if the day bears any fruit.'

Sandy, and Cameron Stewart (Boonah Qld) in front of adjoining Clan tents.

Museum Library Presentation. Lachlan McPherson (Belmont presented a McPherson's catalogue to the CMA Library at the Annual General Meeting in the Newtonmore Village Hall. Accepting the book is CMA Chairman Jean Macpherson Duffy. Lachlan said that his late father prized the catalogue; not only did it bear his family name, but it was also vital in his line of work Mechanical as Construction Superintendent with the

SEC in the Latrobe Valley over more than two decades in charge of construction of coal excavation dredgers, conveyor systems and many other varied projects including overseeing the wall construction of the dam for Lake Narracan and the lookout tower at the top of Coach Road (after the civil engineers couldn't get it right three times!).

Annual Subs Included in this mailing are renewal notices for Annual members. Prompt renewals will be appreciated, preferably by electronic funds transfer (EFT) to our bank account, the details of which are shown on the renewal notice. Please ensure that you provide your name on the EFT bank reference.

The Scottish Diaspora Tapestry Returns Home

In late March Cluny and his family journeyed to Crieff to look at the Scottish Diaspora Tapestry Display which has returned to Scotland and is now travelling the country. In an e-mail titled 'Top Lad', Cluny's daughter Annie Le Roy-Lewis said that she and her daughter Eliza, now studying at Cambridge University, enormously were impressed. What and talent! detail Dad was delighted to see it too and we had a lovely hour or so looking at the other panels from around the world.'

The panel titled 'Three Macphersons', endorsed by Cluny, was embroidered by local CMA members Helen Johnson and Heather Smallbone.

The three Macphersons illustrated are:

– March 1866), Cluny's great great grandfather who came to Sydney in 1829, with his family to pursue a career in the civil service and was the original Collector in Internal Revenue, then first Clerk to the Legislative Council (the first Australian Parliament), and NSW Executive. Retiring in 1860, William remained in NSW until he died in 1866 at Berneera, near Liverpool Regarded as a pillar of the colonial establishment, a stained glass window in his memory is erected in St Andrew's Cathedral Sydney, and can be seen above the NE transept as one leaves the Cathedral toward Sydney Town Hall. His son, Allan Macpherson, was a member of the New South Wales Legislative Assembly and represented the Electoral district of Central Cumberland from 1863 to 1868.

The second McPherson is famed Australian water colour painter Margaret Rose Preston who was born in Adelaide. She studied with landscape painters Lister and MacCubbin amongst others Sydney from 1888, at the National Gallery of Victoria schools in Melbourne in 1893-94 and 1896-97, and travelled overseas extensively. Margaret eventually settled in the Mosman area with her husband William (Bill) Preston whom she married in December 1939.

A harbor town, Mosman has long attracted artists and writers such as Tom Roberts, Arthur Streeton, Harold Herbert, Dattilo Rubbo, Lloyd Rees, Nancy Borlase, and Ken Done. The Prestons lived in Mosman from 1920 to 1963, with the exception of seven years in the bush suburb of Berowra during the 1930s. Even more than her paintings, Preston's woodcuts, linocuts, and monotypes showed her capacity for Modernist innovation. Although she had experimented with etching while living in England, the best of her mature work was in woodcuts. These prints were inexpensive to produce and helped her to extend her reach to a broader market.

Preston created over 400 known prints, not all of which are documented and some of which are lost. The great majority of surviving prints feature Australian native flora as their subjects, a result of Preston's desire to make uniquely Australian images. Flowers such as the banksia, waratah, gum blossom and wheelflower offered Preston specimens for her radical, asymmetrical compositions.

Helen Macpherson Smith is the third of the trio. Helen is a descendant of John Macpherson of Skye and Helen Watson. They were Helen Schutt's grandparents. They had eleven children, the youngest of whom, Jane Priscilla, was the mother of Helen Macpherson Schutt. The family came to Australia in 1825, settling first on the Limestone Plains (now Canberra) then in Melbourne. Helen married William John Schutt who predeceased her. On her death Helen left a generous legacy which became the Helen Macpherson Smith Trust in 1951. The Trust now makes annual charitable grants to many worthwhile causes in Victoria, one of which funded the magnificent restoration of the genealogical centre in the Victoria State Library.

The is an independent philanthropic trust to which Helen left the majority of her wealth. Launched as the Helen M. Schutt Trust, the name was changed to the Helen Macpherson Smith Trust in 2001 to acknowledge the Macpherson and Smith families as the prime source of her legacy.

Since the Trust was established, over $113 million has been granted to a wide range of Victorian charitable institutions and a diverse range of projects benefiting Victorians every year.

Helen Macpherson Smith was a very private woman who left few insights into the type of person she was. Her close friends and relatives described her as thoughtful, kind and caring, and there would be little doubt that this spirit of generosity was central to her interest in philanthropy.

Helen's vision continues to guide HMSTrust today. She was a life-long donor and supporter of organisations in Victoria including community service charities, children's causes and medical institutions.

The Scottish Tartans Authority Update - August 2017

On 29th September 2017, the 21st AGM The Scottish Tartans Authority (STA) was held at the Smith Art Gallery and Museum in Stirling. Prior to the meeting a short update in advance of the AGM was presented to members thus: 'I am very aware that while the profile of The Scottish Tartans Authority continues to grow across Scotland's culture, heritage, tourism and business sectors, this may not be apparent to some long-standing members. We are determined to communicate more in the year ahead and I do hope that members will be pleased with our detailed Annual Report that will be available online in the next few weeks. It tells a tale of high activity and new partnerships, all in pursuit of our charitable purposes with the aim of promoting, protecting and preserving our most cherished and iconic national fabric.

Highlights over the past year have included:

National Tartan Centre - progress ... in partnership with Stirling Council ... we expect to hear the outcome of their City Deal Bid towards the end of the year.

Braemar Royal Highland Society - the STA is now represented on the project team that will deliver a Highland Games Centre in 2018.

Tartan Marque - the STA is a point of co-ordination for a group of members with an interest in creating a marque for "Tartan Woven in Scotland". Engaging with a full range of industry members and partners (those for, and those against such a marque) is vitally important as, in concept ..., a marque means different things to different audiences.

The Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo - the STA provided a great deal of support to the organisers, ensuring that this year's "Splash of Tartan" theme was both colourful and accurate.

Research, Media & Enquiries - activity ... has exploded in the last 12 months. A number of artefacts of historical significance have been located from public and private collections. Some high level detail is included within our Annual Report.

Fundraising - a targeted campaign was launched in 2016 with approaches made to 300 or so Trusts and Foundations across the UK. The initial trawl has drawn in funds amounting to £30,000 with hopeful feedback for future approaches.

I do hope you will enjoy the attached article, "Preserving the Fabric of a Nation" that will appear in the Braemar Gathering Annual programme next month Read the article at http://www.electricscotland.com/tartans/newsletter/index.htm

Very best wishes

John F McLeish, (Chairman - The Scottish Tartans Authority)

Welfare Service for Everyman (courtesy Australian Army newspaper)

Local CMA member Ramsey Macpherson (Drummoyne NSW) was on hand at Government House Canberra on 23rd August when the Governor General Sir Peter Cosgrove unveiled a new Everyman's Welfare Service brew truck. Ramsey was the Australian Ambassador for the Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo (REMT) in Melbourne in February 2016.

The new brew truck was bought and customised with funds donated by the REMT for use wherever possible within the Australian Defence Force (ADF). Sir Peter is Patron of the Everyman's Welfare Service which supports soldiers sailors and airmen and their families by providing philanthropic support, a service not normally provided by the ADF in the field. Everyman's officers turn up with their brew truck in unexpected places, often at most unexpected times. The Everyman's Welfare Service was established 75 years ago to offer support, guidance and comfort for troops going to World War II, and continues to offer that same support at home and overseas.

The new brew truck was packed with the same comforts and will extend the same goodwill that can make all the difference to troops seeking a break during training, and on active service.

The presentation occurred as part of the Centenary of Anzac commemorations in Australia; a worthy recipient of charitable funds donated by the REMT following the successful displays held in Melbourne in 2016, and was 'an incredibly generous donation by the REMT,' the Governor General said.

Everyman's Representatives are accredited by the ADF, work from recreation centres on bases, and travel with troops on military exercises and operational requirements. They served in Singapore and Malaya during World War II, and have since supported troops at home, in Malaysia, Vietnam, Cambodia, Timor-Leste and Solomon Islands, and today deploy to the Middle East Region.

The Macpherson DNA Project – July 2017 - Athol McDonald Gigarre (Vic)

The Macpherson DNA Project now numbers 215 participants from across the globe, the main focus remains Ydna testing for Macpherson men, however there is increasing interest in autosomal testing (the Family Finder test) for both males and females.

The most significant advance in the couple of years has been the emergence of Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) testing. When the project commenced over a decade ago the emphasis was on the testing of Short Tandem Repeats (STRs) on the Y chromosome. It is beyond the scope of this short report to delve too deeply into the science involved, suffice to say that NGS testing identifies Single Nucleotide Morphisms (SNPs). These are changes on the Y chromosome that may have occurred centuries ago but are passed on to all male descendants of a particular individual. The most advanced test offered by FTDNA is the BigY test, although it is possible to test for individual SNPs or SNP packs. The SNP L1065 has been identified as almost exclusively Scottish. Many Scottish Clans are descended from the first L1065 man, including the Macphersons. Many members of the project have tested positive to this SNP. Recently two SNPs have been identified as exclusively Macpherson, they are FGC32902 and A861, both descend from L1065. The first FGC32902 man lived about 850 years ago. Five project members had tested positive to this SNP, all have known links to Badenoch. They have recently been joined by the Australian CMA Chairman, John L. Macpherson, suggesting that his roots may also lie close to the headwaters of the River Spey.

The SNP A861 branched off FGC32902 about 450 years ago and appears to represent the Chiefly line.

One pleasing anecdote from the last year has been the success of the DNA project in assisting Robert MacPherson of Shetland trace his ancestors back to Badenoch. Robert's primary reason for joining the project over a decade ago was to learn where his forebears had originated on the mainland. His ancestor Robert had arrived in Shetland in the early 1700s as a school master with the Scottish Society for the Propagation of Christian Knowledge (SSPCK).

Robert did not have any close match with others in the project and for many years sat almost alone in a small group with another member with roots in Shetland. Closer examination of his results indicated that he did in fact match some members closely connected to Badenoch. Robert agreed to take the BigY test, which identified that his terminal SNP is FGC32902 thus confirming this speculation. A little research revealed that the SSPCK had only one master named Robert MacPherson, who had transferred from Laggan to Shetland in the 1720s. Quite a remarkable story, Robert senior had almost certainly grown up in Badenoch early in the eighteenth century, received an education at a local SSPCK school before becoming a local school master himself and eventually relocating to Shetland.

A longer article on the Macpherson DNA Project will be published in the 2018 Creag Dhubh.

Clan Macpherson Museum At the August 2017 Council meeting retiring Chairman of the Museum Advisory Committee (MAC) Ewen Macpherson reported:

"... that the museum had a very good year financially mainly due to the excellent fundraising event in Edinburgh in October 2016 organized by Zandra Macpherson (Glentruim), the Friends scheme and a number of donations; in particular one given in memory of the late Neil Macpherson, former CMA treasurer. A full building survey of the museum had been carried out by Rob Macpherson (trustee & architect), a structural engineer and a quantity surveyor. Rob gave an excellent presentation to the Museum Advisory Committee and the Trustees. Briefly, the roof tiles are in a very poor condition and are saturated, cracked and delaminating. The Museum has suffered a series of on-going leaks. The walls of the extension are sloping outwards by deflection of the roof trusses due to excess weight of the roof tiles above, but they do not show signs of recent movement. The walls are cracked and unsightly. The (curator's) flat was also examined and of in the plans. Minor repairs included the flat are necessary.

Option1. Replace the existing roof cladding of tiles with much lighter zinc and include insulation. The roof overhang to he extended considerably in order to clad the walls in the future and allow for excess rain water from the roof to avoid the walls. Option 2. Option 1 and Option 3. In addition to Options 1 & 2, demolish the existing garage, add a single-story extension to the existing building, internal alterations. The Trustees agreed to pursue Option 2 at a projected cost of about £200,000. This could be done without disturbing the inside of the museum or closing it.

A fundraising event was held in the home of Gordon Macpherson, Coates Crescent, Edinburgh in early October and featured entertainment by Bill Wyllie Macpherson, MBE. Bill is professionally known as Bill Martin and is a songwriter of some repute whose hits include "Puppet on a String" and "Congratulations." The event raised about £1400 for the Museum repairs.

Friends of the Clan Macpherson Museum The Friends of the Museum were formed to help raise additional income to assist the cash flow for maintenance and day-to-day running of the Museum.

The background and defined requirements have been confirmed and a brochure "The Friends of the Clan Macpherson Museum" has been published with a crest designed by R. Gordon Macpherson of Canada. Go to:

Go to: https://www.clan-macpherson.org/museum/supportus.html#friends for details. The website explains how to become a Friend and the attendant benefits. Guardians of the Museum (Na Diònadairean) will also receive the benefits listed for Friends.

The Clan Macpherson March to the Newtonmore Highland Games

There has been some discussion recently about Cluny's March; in particular concerning dress and other standards. An undated paper has emerged recently which contains some interesting history of the first march, and is repeated hereunder.

The first march took place on 23rd August 1947 to coincide with the inaugural rally of the Clan Macpherson Association (CMA) which was formed in 1946.

On welcoming the Clan into the Newtonmore Highland Games Colonel MBH Ritchie DSO, the President of the Games Committee said:

'The Committee of the Newtonmore Highland Games and, indeed, all who live in the Macpherson country, welcome most cordially this gathering of their famous clan. It is an historic occasion today, when the children of Muirich Badenoch have come back to the Glen of their forefathers, back to yonder stately mountain from which they took their famous Slogan, a war-cry that rang out across many a battlefield in the olden times. Here, we know your Clan history; the fight at nearby Inverhavon; that of Falkirk; and the sharp rearguard action in the gloaming at Clifton, down in England. The long vista of Highland Clanship years signify little; these actions are of yesterday: but Clanship and Highland Clanship years signify little; these actions continue ever; today and tomorrow. And today we pay honour to the house of Cluny and all its branches. Remember, that no

Cluny ever evicted clansmen in the wicked days of the Clearances. In particular let us honour the memory of Cluny of the 45, who lost all, gave all, in the cause of his rightful Sovereign, but gained unforgettable merit in the nobility of his sacrifice. And honour also the deep and steadfast loyalty of the people of Badenoch: through nine years of search no man or woman betrayed Cluny; they scorned to accept the bribes of his persecutors. That integrity exists today as strong as two centuries ago.

Look unto the rock whence ye are hewn. And may the Mountain Grandeur of Creag Dhubh be your inspiration in time of trial, as it was to your forebears. And may Scotland ever be proud of her Clan Muirich, that has contributed so much to her advancement, to her history and to her renown. "Creag Dhubh, Chlann Chattain'.

The annual Clan Macpherson march is not intended to be a carnival parade but gives all clansmen the opportunity to rally behind their Chief in a show of fealty and allegiance and demonstrate to all, pride in our common heritage. The paper goes on to say that one does not need to be a member of the CMA to participate but it is expected that all marchers will adhere to the Chief's guidelines pertaining to dress and behaviour in the march.

Clan Macpherson 'on parade' at Newtonmore Highland Games on Saturday 5th August 2017. Chairman of the Games Committee, Angus Macpherson (extreme left) welcomes Cluny and the Clan. The three flags are: L to R, the Association arms, Cluny's personal standard and the Green Banner.

New Member Julia Riordan describes her family history. My grandfather, David William Kinloch Macpherson is Cluny's uncle, which makes me Cousin Bill's (Cluny's) first cousin once removed! I was born in Zambia, Central Africa and the youngest of four children, my siblings being Patty, Cliff, and (late) Michael. My (late) mum, Prinia Riordan (nee Macpherson) along with her brother Ewen and sister Isabel are the children of David and his wife Frances (my grandmother) and Cluny's first cousins.

My Grandpa (David) arrived at Beira, Portuguese East Africa in 1926 and later settled in Nyasaland (now Malawi). He was a keen fisherman and ornithologist, his diaries from his early pioneering in Portuguese East Africa document the many birds he identified including a discovery of a bird in Malawi now known as the White-winged apalis – Apalis Chariessa macphersoni. A comprehensive collection of the birds identified during his time in Africa is held in the British Natural History Museum at Tring, in Hampshire. A book based on his diaries of his experiences during this time has been edited by (my Aunt) Isabel – Little Birds and Elephants (http://www.birdsandelephants.com/).

Our family left Zambia and emigrated to New Zealand in 1970 where we settled in Motueka in the South Island. I moved to Brisbane Australia in 2000 and have two children. I am delighted to be finally joining the Australian Branch of Clan Macpherson and am very fortunate to be part of a family that has such a rich, interesting and well documented history.

I often wonder if my grandpa was inspired by his grandfather, Allan Macpherson 'the Squatter'. – Maybe his grandmother, Emma Macpherson told him tales of his grandfather's journey to Queensland travelling through the rugged Australian bush en-route to Mt Abundance in 1847.

I would like to acknowledge my first cousin Douglas, son of Uncle Ewen in this article as he is also a fellow Queenslander and grandson of David. Douglas' brother Derek is the African Chairman of the Clan Macpherson Association.

A Commonwealth quartet,

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

W ell, here I am starting the second year of a three-year term!

The 68th Gathering is behind us and I was pleased that it went off well, as it was my first effort organizing a Branch Annual Gathering. I offer my heartfelt thanks to Bob and Sondra Archibald for their help with covering registration and hosting the afternoon tea after the Kirkin o' the Tartan. Janet McCredie our new Hon Secretary, is already looking into our 69th Gathering for next year.

Our membership survey saw great participation by our members and resulted a wealth of good ideas to improve how our Branch can better serve its members. Members indicated that more regional activities would be desirable so Council has responded by setting up six new regions across Canada with Councilors in each, charged with implementing new ideas for the Branch. Council is reviewing the financial implications to use our funds to support the new regions.

As one of the interviewers for the survey, I personally found it very interesting to talk to our members and hear what they had to say,

I represented our Branch at the United States Branch Gathering and AGM in Dallas this fall, following our Gathering in Brantford. This was my first time as Canadian Chairman and it was nice to meet new clan cousins and renew former acquaintances. I also found it interesting how the US Branch Council manages their affairs.

By Ken Gillis Honorary Treasurer

he Branch is in good shape financially as of the end of September. We have $8,556 in our current account and $11,131 in our Life Membership Fund. We are showing a profit of $1,091 year to date at the end of September.

The amount of profit on the year is somewhat misleading as I did not have the final bills from the Brantford Gathering. Since I closed the books for September, I have received the final bills for the Gathering as well as a series of other bills for equipment purchases and other small items. The result is that we are at about a break even position year to date. The Brantford Gathering had a modest loss of less than $100. The Gathering was not well attended, which was most unfortunate for those of you who did not attend, because you missed an excellent Gathering, at a good venue, with delicious food and agreeable companions. I congratulate Ed Smith on an excellent job of organizing the event and managing the costs.

I do not believe there will be any other large expenses for the balance of this year.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

e wish to thank to following for their excellent contributions and support to the November issue: John Barton (Scotland), Danna Fitton, Ken Gillis, John C House, Janet Macpherson, Myles G Macpherson, Robert T Macpherson, James G McPherson, James M Small, E. Roderick Smith, and Ed Smith.

I was pleased to note that our Council for 2018 is starting out with very few vacancies. I am looking forward to working with the new officers and Regional Councilors that were elected, and anticipate a good year ahead. I was a little disappointed that we have not found a Vice Chairmen yet, so I will be working with the Nominating Committee to fill this very important vacancy this coming year.

Yours Aye, Ed Smith CD.

WE REMEMBER

Hugh Edward Macpherson joined CMA as a life member in 1983. He passed away on August 24 at the age of 89. Hugh attended Branch Gatherings and generously contributed to the Life Member Fund to help to get it started.

He also donated funds to the Clan Museum in New-

Hugh was born in London, Ontario and grew up in Stratford. He graduated from Queen's University Kingston in 1951with a degree in Civil Engineering, and later furthered his education in Business Administration at The University of Western Ontario.

As an engineering student, he spent his summers working for King Paving Company Ltd. Following graduation, he started his career at Imperial Oil, then returned to King Paving. In 1983, he purchased the company now called KPM Industries Ltd. and was Chairman and Chief Executive Officer at the time of his retirement.

Hugh was well respected for the leadership he provided, his unassuming generosity, and many contributions to his community such as: Queen's University Bursary Fund for Engineering Students, Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital, and other medical facilities.

Hugh was an active member of the United Church, and a longstanding member and director of The Burlington Golf and Country Club.

FIRST-TIME BRANCH OFFICERS

Janet McCredie (née Macpherson), Hon Secretary, joined CMA as a life member in 1986. She had a 31-year career in elementary education, first as a teacher for 17 years and then as a principal in London Ontario. After retiring she was called back to run a French immersion program at the elementary level, which she finds interesting indeed, as she feels that the French Language is not her strongest suite. Janet has been collecting quilts as a hobby and is now embarking on designing and sewing them herself in her "spare" time.

Janet is looking forward to taking on the role of Branch Secretary and volunteered to be convener for the 2018 Branch Gathering, She has started work on the Gathering already and expects to announce the plan for it early in 2018 so we can all mark our calendars.

Denise Lagundzin, Registrar, lives with her husband Mike in Whitby Ontario. She joined CMA in 2017 and enthusiastically responded to a request by Ed Smith to accept the nomination to Council as Registrar for the coming year. Denise worked for Autotrader® for 17 years in administrative positions, which provided her with unique experience applicable to being our Registrar.

Denise enjoys cooking and has taken on the hobby of trying at least one new recipe a week. Her second hobby is photography which will also be useful in CMA, as we always need images from our events for the Green Banner. Denise volunteers as a guide at The Lynde House Museum & Visitor Centre operated by the Whitby Historical Society.

Her connection to Clan Macpherson is through her maternal great-grandmother Margaret Macpherson. Denise visited Scotland this fall to follow her roots. Denise and Mike have three beautiful daughters, four grandsons and two grand-daughters

MEET THE NEW REGIONAL COUNCILLORS

Regional Councillor Eastern Canada

John C House MOM, FSA Scot joined CMA in 2012. He served as Provincial Councilor Newfoundland and Labrador from 2013 to 2016. John grew up in a southwestern Newfoundland community called the Highlands, where his maternal forbearers included Mac-phersons that had emigrated via Cape Breton from western Scotland during the early nineteenth century.

John was a member of the Royal Newfoundland Constabulary for more than 30 years, and retired as a Superintendent. He then moved to Halifax with his wife Penny to take a position in the Nova Scotia Ombudsman's Office.

John studied at Memorial University and completed a Master of Science Degree in Investigative Psychology at the University of Surrey in England. In 2014 he graduated with a Master of Letters from the University of the Highlands and Islands. His topic was the Viking Age in Scotland. He is continuing graduate studies in Scottish history.

In 2009, John was invested as a Member of the Order of Merit of the Police Forces (MOM) in recognition of his contributions to policing across his career. In 2016 he was elected a Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland.

Regional Councillor Quebec and Eastern Ontario

Major Myles G Macpherson CD lives in Kirkland QC with his wife Linda Zema, who is a life member and his daughter Arielle who is an annual member. Myles joined CMA as a life member in 2001 and in 2009 he was elected to Council as Provincial Councilor for Quebec. He has attended Clan Gatherings in Badenoch as well as several Gatherings in Canada.

Myles is a graduate of Concordia University and holds Bachelor of Commerce and Master of Business Administration degrees. He presently serves with the Canadian Armed Forces as a staff officer in Ottawa.

He is a federally licensed amateur radio operator, but his principal hobby is model railroading for which he is building an extensive N scale setup in his basement.

Regional Councillor Central Ontario

Janet MacPherson of Toronto Ontario joined CMA in 2002 when Mary-Margaret Gillies, a long-time member with whom she was working at the time, convinced her to become a member. She was impressed when she visited Scotland to attend the Clan Macpherson Gathering in Badenoch shortly after joining CMA.

Janet grew up in Moncton NB, and graduated first from Mt. Allison University, then Emmanuel College of Victoria University at the University of Toronto. Janet was commissioned in the United Church of Canada in 1969 and was a missionary in Japan. After returning to Canada she worked at the United Church's national office and the Canadian Council of Churches until she retired. She continues her connection with church volunteer work. That keeps her busy!

Regional Councillor Ontario West

Rod Smith joined the CMA in 1998 and served on Council from 2000 to 2014. He was born in North Bay and was raised in Waterloo, Ontario. He is a graduate of both Waterloo and Laurier Universities with a degree in Environmental Studies and a master's degree in pastoral counselling and family therapy. He followed a career in building science engineering and building restoration with major consulting firms.

Rod has been involved with Scouts for decades as a trainer and district commissioner. He continues his avocation in scouting today. He is active with the 78th Fraser Highlanders, a heritage unit that supports young people who come to learn and play the pipes and drums during the summer while reenacting 18th century military drill for the public. Rod joined the Order of St Lazarus in 2005, a charitable organization dedicated to the relief of human suffering. He is the Treasurer for the Western Ontario Commandery of this Order of Chivalry.

Regional Councillor Western Canada

Robert Thomas (Bob) Macpherson who lives in Cochrane, Alberta, joined CMA in 2014 He was born in Drumheller and raised in Hanna, Alberta. Bob is a fourth generation Canadian Scot whose great-grandfather came to Elgin County, Ontario in the mid 1800's from the Tarbert area of Kintyre, Scotland. He has many distant relatives in the St. Thomas area of Ontario

Bob has a keen interest in and a love of his Scottish heritage. He and his wife, Sylvia, have been to Scotland four times so far and attended the Clan Gathering in 2015 with plans of attending again in 2018. Bob and Sylvia have hosted a Burns' night for over thirty years. Bob also had the honour of giving a Toast to the Lassies and delivering the Immortal Memory at some of the Grande Prairie Burns' suppers.

Bob spent his career as a teacher in Grande Prairie before retiring to Cochrane Alberta to be close to the three children and two grandchildren living in Calgary.

After attending many Highland games and Burns' suppers in Grande Prairie, Bob started attending games in Calgary and Canmore the last few years and is looking forward to increasing our presence there to drum up interest in CMA in the west, starting in Alberta.

FITTON FAMILY GOES TO SCOTLAND

By Danna Fitton

scotland truly is for all ages and stages. We were very fortunate to be able to spend the last two weeks of July in Scotland with our children, Simon, and Courtney with her partner Adam Fair, and our grandchildren, Etta, one and Elliot, four. I know you might be questioning our sanity, but we all agreed that the trip exceeded all of our expectations. You can't get better than that.

We rented a flat in Edinburgh for five days, which allowed us to catch up with former CMA Chairs Sandy and Catherine Macpherson, as well as spend an evening with Shelagh and husband Alastair Noble. Mid-week we visited Sandy and Catherine's son, Bruce, and his wife Michelle at their wonderful "old" home outside Peebles in the Borders region. The rest of the time, we explored Edinburgh, often meeting up in parks to listen to music, let the children play and have a beer from a local tent. Climbing Arthur's Seat was popular with all including the four year old. Gran (me), had to keep Etta busy on the nearby green space. Darn! Elliot was in search of castles and was thrilled when his father bought him a plastic sword in a scabbard while visiting Edinburgh Castle. Somehow his mother discovered as she climbed Arthur's Seat, that she was still carrying Elliot's sword - and Elliot was still at the bottom of the hill with Daddy and probably wondering what happened to his sword. I guess she felt that she needed to lead the charge.

Arthur's Seat near Holyrood Palace

The balance of our trip was spent at "Netherwood", a wonderful house in Newtonmore, once owned by Sandy's aunt. It was very interesting being there out of Gathering time. There are many things to do from that location such as, bicycling, hiking many trails, visiting Dalwhinnie Distillery, Rhuthven Barracks and the Folk Museum . We did them all, and the children loved being out and about. We visited pubs and cafés, and did take-out from the Glen Hotel to share in our own dining room on our last night together.

Visiting the Clan Macpherson Museum with our family was special. Ruiseart the curator, found the cromach donated by my father, Dan Gillies of Wheatley. Each of us had a turn carrying it as we explored the museum. Young Elliot was intrigued by the sword which also had been donated by his Great Poppa. The coat of arms of Uncle John Gillies a former Chair of the Canadian Branch, was on the wall of the Heraldry room, which is an amazing collection of colours and designs.

Of course, the highlight of this week was going to Blairgowrie near Perth, to have lunch with Cluny and Hilary at Newton Castle. They were in good health, wonderful spirits and the rain stopped as soon as we arrived. It was such a pleasure for us to be with them again, and we were happy to be able to introduce Adam and the children to our Chief..

I heartily recommend a family trip such as this- some time together, some time apart. There seemed to be something for everyone. Our children are already indicating that they want to go back, perhaps to explore Adam's Ross roots, to check out the islands and the North. If Ron and I are lucky, they might invite us to come along!

Danna Fitton (neé Gillies) lives in Scarborough Ontario and has been involved with the Clan Macpherson Association for over thirty years, inspired by her father, Dan Gillies of Wheatley, who was a very active member, Danna and her extended family often joined him at gatherings in Scotland and Canada to enjoy time together and to celebrate our Clan heritage.

Danna was a teacher in Toronto and had the pleasure of teaching not only adolescents, but also adults who came back to school to finish their education or to get Canadian credentials and experience in a Canadian workplace.

Danna is active in a community choir called Shout Sister, and has always been involved in her community and church organizations. She and her husband Ron are getting ready to move into a condo and are looking forward to new adventures —once the work of downsizing is complete.

THE COLONEL, THE LAIRD, AND MY FAMILY

Rev. James Macpherson Small

have wanted to record their history – whether in song, story, memory, or writing in some form or other. The Scots are definitely a People ... with a long history. It is good to reflect on our history, with its various vagaries. But that is a lengthy possibility, so I am breaking into my history by beginning with Lt. Col. Donald Macpherson who commanded the Kingston Garrison during the War of 1812 and was my great-great-great-grandfather.

Lt Col Donald Macpherson Circa 1800

Lt. Col. Donald was born in Laggan in 1755, joined the army, and pursued a military career when he came to Canada. He married Elspeth Macpherson in Scotland, and they had a son Allan, who was baptized in the Parish of Laggan in 1785.

In 1809 my great-great- grandfather Allan came to Canada from Badenoch at the age of 22, eventually settling in Napanee to the west of Kingston where he became a leading businessman who invested in the government grist mill. His other interests included a distillery, a saw mill which was an integral part of his lumber business, and he also established the first newspaper in Napanee.

As a leading member of his community he took on government appointments and was the first postmaster in Napanee, and a Justice of the Peace. He was also appointed a Crown Lands and Immigration agent. Allan had an interest in education like many Scots and built, at his own expense, the first school house in the village.

Allan Macpherson "Th e Laird" circa 1858

Topping all this off – he built his new home on the other side of the Napanee river from the village. Allan's house was considered to be the most imposing building of its kind in Napanee by the locals. Because of this he became known as "the Laird".

Macpherson House, Napanee today

I grew up hearing of my great-great-grandfather's practice of "grub-staking" (financially supporting) people who went to work in the wooded unknown north in what is now the well-settled County of Lennox and Addington in Ontario.

Allan and Mary had 4 sons – Richard, Donald, Alexander, and James; and three daughters – Henrietta, Emma Jessie, and Willina [who died young]. Their son Richard my great-grandfather, married Emma Jackson, and in time they had a daughter Mary [known as Minnie]. Minnie married my grandfather, Henry Beaumont Small – a medical doctor and surgeon in Ottawa.

Mary (Minnie) Macpherson—Small circa 1878

Henry and Minnie had three children; Dorothy, and her sister Marjorie [known to us as Aunt Mac] who did not marry, but kept the house and home of the Doctor after Minnie died, and a son Richard my father, who married Mary Elizabeth Martin.

In the fullness of time, Richard and Mary had two sons, my brother, Richard Martin Beaumont Small, and I – James Macpherson Small who married Joan Frances Blackwell. Joan and I were blessed with two sons Keith Macpherson Small and Gordon Richard James Small. Gordon who lives in St Hubert QC now has a young son Mathieu. So the family continues...

MCPHERSON'S SCHOOL, BRANT COUNTY

By James G McPherson of Creemore

year marked the first ever reunion of McPherson's School, a little yellow brick school house that stands at the corner of Scenic Drive and McPherson School Road about one mile north of Blue Lake in the County of Brant, Ontario, Canada.

The event attracted, in my words at the time, "all who went to the school, wish they had gone to the school, or are just plain curious as to what life was like attending a classic one room rural school". The event featured, in honour of Canada's 150th birthday, a re-dedication of the school's bell which exactly 50 years prior was mounted on a solid granite stone marked by a Canada Centennial plaque with the words "Site of McPherson's School, SS#10, 1870-1961, Dedicated Aug. 6th 1967".

McPherson's School SS 10

Happily, against all expectations at that time, the school building is not only standing, it is lovingly cared for by the present owners Suzanne Seward and Paul Stouffer. They graciously allowed the school and school yard to be open to all. While the interior is completely re-done as a modern comfortable country home, warm brick outside walls stand tall and the front have been meticulously restored to its original configuration. The bricks bear the names (and for those less daring, only the initials) of most former students, and are still there to be seen, fingered and the circumstances of their being carved by nail or jackknife were recalled or imagined. Many of the names recorded of McPherson children who attended from two adjacent farms, one of which is still owned by McPhersons who first settled in this bit of Brant (as emigrants from Batavia, Genesee County, New York State) in the early 1820's.

This building bespeaks Canada, being built 3 years after Confederation at a cost of $816 on land given by Daniel McPherson at the corner of his farm. Classes ceased in 1961 as better roads and greater mobility led to a new era of consolidation.

But happily again, not only is the school standing, but so are many of its graduates from the 1930's onward. By grapevine and social media, word of the Reunion spread and 89 attendees from Canada, State of Washington, Minnesota and Illinois gathered to recall, perhaps for the last time, the times when the school bubbled with laughter or was silenced by the crack of the strap! But good times by far prevailed, despite no phone, no running water, no internet and very little money.

The Brantford Expositor newspaper captured the mood when it reported that the Reunion had "all the earmarks of a warm family homecoming". Written remarks from Audrey Wann (neé McPherson) of Tucson AZ who at 96 declined to attend "because she had another road trip", relating her memories of being disciplined in the woodshed. Recollections of Dr. Duncan McPherson of Vancouver regarding summer target practice at the bell with his 22 "when nobody was around" added to the humour of the day. Mayor Ron Eddy of Brant spoke and noted the importance to our history of having such public structures preserved by finding new uses for them, as they are irreplaceable reminders.

The old school bell, newly painted and polished and show-cased by fresh landscaping, was unveiled by Alan and Flora McPherson of Calgary (great-great grandchildren of Daniel), and Margaret (neé McPherson) Scheske and her daughter Jenna who reside in the adjacent "McPherson "farmhouse. They were assisted by Dolores Gallagher, the oldest former pupil present. A Clan Macpherson tartan blanket served admirably for this occasion as a cover. I asked all present "to join me in rededicating this bell... this ringing symbol of our school, our community and ourselves". As the blanket was pulled aside "O Canada" was sung and a happy day drew to a close.

Following the rededication of the school bell, I asked my granddaughter Flora McPherson to ring the bell with a small hammer to make sure the bell rang true. It did ,and brought back a final memory for all who were present

68TH ANNUAL GATHERING

By Mark Macpherson

About 24 members and guests congregated for the Chairman's Reception and ceilidh hosted by Ed Smith at the Best Western Brantford on Friday evening September 15. Our congenial host had arranged for the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society

Hamilton ON Branch Dance Demonstration Team to present a demonstration of Scottish Country Dancing with members of the audience joining in at the request of the dancers. All enjoyed the reels and Strathspeys. Ed brought out his Scottish song list and everyone joined in a great sing-song along with a few talented individual performances. A snack of cold cuts and salads was laid on with an open bar which was enjoyed immensely.

Hamilton Dance Group giving a demonstration of Scottish country dancing

Once the exciting business of the Annual General Meeting was out of the way on Saturday morning, members dispersed for the afternoon to take in the interesting sites around Brantford, to do some local shopping, or just relax and let the world pass by.

Ewan our Webmaster and Piper, visited the Bell homestead and reported:

"Visited the Alexander Graham Bell homestead. The young man giving tours was very knowledgeable. I had been looking forward to this having recently read Charlotte Gray's biography of Bell and also Dr. Cluny's account of meeting Bell on a train and learning the story of the "Lost Portrait". Great to see the Bells' first North American home and many of their original possessions"

June and Mark went to the Canadian Military Heritage Museum and enjoyed the visit. There is more on this visit in a separate article.

The formal highland dinner which is always a feature of our Gathering was excellent, with most members complimenting the quality of the food, particularly the haggis. Bill Macpherson former Chair and Robbie Burns devotee, gave the address to the haggis with his usual flair. Ewan who had piped in the head table and the haggis, after dinner gave a fine demonstration of his art.

Professor James Frazer addressing the dinner

Then an innovation this year, at least something we haven't seen for a while, we had a guest speaker on a Scottish subject, as requested by many members who had responded to the membership survey earlier this year. The keynote speaker was Dr. James Fraser of the University of Guelph who addressed the problems of researching Scottish history which is based on a mainly oral tradition where facts and myths tend to be mixed up.

Ewan introduced and read Dr. Cluny Macpherson's recollection of a chance encounter with Alexander Graham Bell on a train headed to Montreal, where Cluny was to begin his medical studies, aged 17. Bell's father was friendly with the St. John's Macphersons in his youth, and Bell had also visited them when Cluny was a child. Bell recounted the story (entirely unknown to Cluny) of the "Lost Portrait" of Cluny's great-grandfather. The portrait had been lost at sea, but was later discovered by chance by Cluny's grandfather hanging in a cottage on the west coast of Ireland. For Dr. Cluny's full account, see http://collections.mun.ca/cdm/search/collection/cluny (Notebook 2, page 32).

Bill presented the story of Cluny's Cage where our Chief hid out following the battle of Culloden.

These after-dinner talks were generally well-received. Some members suggested that a sound system would have made it easier to understand all that the speakers were presenting.

YOUR OPINION COUNTED

By Mark Macpherson

member who wished to participate in our landmark survey, the purpose of which was to find out how to find new members and keep those who had joined. A questionnaire was designed and tested. Then members were called by other members who had volunteered to do telephone interviews. Participants also had the option of completing the survey on their own and returning the questionnaire by email. In the end 61% of our members completed the survey, which is an excellent response. A total of 244 suggestions were offered to improve recruiting, retention, the events offered by the Branch, and communications with our members.

When asked why they joined, most members not surprisingly, checked affiliation with Clan Macpherson, interest in clan history, or following their roots. A significant number felt the message put out by CMA was not clear, and many felt the use of social media such as Facebook should be harnessed to enhance the image of CMA. We have been looking for someone to serve on Council to do just that! We are still looking.

When asked about the organization of the Governing Council of the Branch, a significant minority felt they did not know much about it, but the majority felt it was important to the Branch. You will note in this issue of the Green Banner we have taken great pains to inform everybody of the organization and composition of Council.

One of the key issues raised in the survey was that members in general were not able to attend the events offered by the Branch, and that more regional and possibly family-oriented events were necessary. The Council has reorganized the Branch into six regions to address these issues. We are examining the possibility of family-friendly summer events as well.

We have to develop our message and prepare material that our existing members can use to bring in new people. We know there are many out there with the name Macpherson, or of the allied family names, who don't know about the CMA. These people may be interested in joining if they have the same motivation as those of us who are already members. We just have to find them and talk to them.

You can find the complete report of the survey on our private page on the Clan website at https://www.clan-macpherson.org/canada/membersdocs/membersonly2017.html

Maître d'hôtel: 'Are you here for a special occasion?' Campbell: 'Aye, we won the third prize in the annual Robert Burns Contest, a haggis dinner for two.'

Maître d'hôtel: 'What were the other prizes?' Campbell: The second prize was a single haggis dinner, and, if you won the first prize, you didnae have to eat the haggis.'

68TH ANNUAL GATHERING

Everyone enjoyed the prize draw managed by Ed who made sure of fairness by having the previous winner draw the next ticket. There were happy winners and less happy losers as usual. Ewan reported lately that he is still enjoying his prize "dram by dram"!

On Sunday those of us that could, got up and met at the Central Presbyterian Church in downtown Brantford to be piped in by Ewan. We were greeted by Worship Leader Anne Miller who was officiating, and then we joined the congregation. Ed, Ken Gillis, and Rod Smith did us proud with their readings of the scriptures. It was an impressive church, making for an enjoyable occasion.

In the afternoon, Bob and Sondra Archibald hosted an outdoor luncheon at their beautiful home in Brantford. We were blessed with a nice sunny day, so the fellowship was great and the food and wine magnificent. Everyone is looking forward to next year when we will be celebrating out 69th Gathering.

TARTANS! TARTANS! TARTANS!

By John Barton

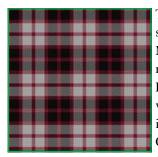

artan as we know it today is not thought to have existed in Scotland before the 16th century. From that time, there are numerous references to striped or checkered plaids, but it is not until the late 17th or early 18th century that any kind of uniformity in tartan is thought to have occurred. Even then, those tartans appear to have been "territorial" and were not necessarily associated with any particular family.

As Highland regiments in the British army multiplied, their tartan uniforms were differentiated, and this may have given birth to the idea of differentiating the tartan that might be worn by each clan.

Depending upon how "different tartan" is defined, it has been estimated that there are now about 3,500 to 7,000 different tartans, with around 150 new designs being created every year. The official Scottish Register of Tartans was established in 2009, The Register is maintained and administrated by the National Archives of Scotland, a statutory body based in Edinburgh. The Scottish Register of Tartans is not selective, and records no less than thirty-one "Macpherson" tartans1

The Hunting Macpherson

The "Hunting Macpherson" is instantly recognizable. In the Clan Museum at Newtonmore, there is a magnificent life-size painting of Ewen Macpherson ("Old Cluny") who succeeded his father as Chief in 1817 and who died in 1885. Old Cluny is wearing a kilt and plaid of the Hunting tartan. In the painting, the sett of the tartan is unusually large. More recently, a smaller sett of the Hunting tartan has been generally preferred. Early records show two forms of the Hunting tartan – with a grey background or a white background. It is open to suggestion that the grey version may be the original, reflecting the natural colour of the wool without bleaching.

The White or Dress Macpherson

This tartan may be of similar antiquity to the Hunting. In its early form, it had three white strips, and usually there were also two parallel purple strips. This tartan was known as the breacan glas (the pied wagtail) reflecting it's largely black and white colouring. The figure depicted by R R McIan and published in his The Clans of the Scottish Highlands (1845) is shown as wearing this tartan; and it was a silk scarf of the same tartan which Robert Louis Stevenson wore as a child in the 1850s). Old Cluny acknowledged the antiquity of this version, but preferred the variation in which the second of the three lines appears in yellow. This is now the preferred version and the kilt in this tartan is usually worn with formal dress.

The Red Macpherson

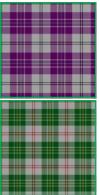

There are no early paintings showing the Red Macpherson, and there is no evidence that it was worn prior to the beginning of the 19th Century. However, it has been included in most collections since that time, albeit with varying hues within the same colour pattern. More recently, there has been an increase in the popularity of the "weathered" or "muted" colours: but such colours have not resulted in a separate registration.

The Registers also contain another less familiar "Red Macpherson" of recent origin. On looking closely, the pattern follows the design of the White Macpherson, but with a red background!

Other Macpherson Tartans

Examples of modern dance tartans

What of the many other "Macpherson" tartans on the established Scottish Register of Tartans? A great number are designated as "dance" tartans. Typical of the tartans to be seen in the dance competitions at Highland Games, they are all very colourful and appear to be based on the white dress tartan. However, outside of the dance scene, they are rarely worn. A few "family" tartans have also been registered in recent times – for example, the Glentruim tartan, designed by Lochcarron for the late Ewen Macpherson of Glentruim. Its dominant colour is green, and it is proudly worn by members of that family.

What is the "Correct" Tartan?

The selecting of a tartan of a new kilt or other garment is a matter of personal choice. For those wishing to a degree of conformity, one may wish to choose from among the generally accepted tartans. However, the design of many of the tartans has evolved over the centuries. It is always open to members of the Clan to innovate and it will be the test of time to decide whether any such variations will come to be accepted in the future.

ALAN G MAPHERSON TURNS 90

By Ewan A Macpherson PhD

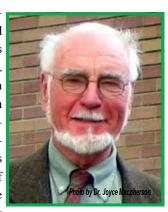

y father, our clan historian and Seanachaidh, Professor Alan G. Macpherson PhD celebrated his 90th birthday on Thursday 28th September 2017.

Alan is the author several books relating to Clan Macpherson including, A Day's March to Ruin [a documentary narrative of the Badenoch Men in the 'Forty-Five and biography of Col. Ewan Macpherson of Cluny, 1706-1764] and The Posterity of The Three Brethren - a Short History of the Clan Macpherson. Copies of Alan's books are available from the Clan Museum.

Alan is interested in the relationship of DNA to genealogy and mounted a research project on this within the Clan a few years ago. Countless members of the Clan Association are grateful to Alan for his time and knowledge willingly given regarding their genealogy and other historical matters for over 60 years. The layout of the Clan Museum, particularly the pre-Victorian period, is largely due to Alan's guidance and direction.

Alan G Macpherson 2005

Alan and his wife of many years Joyce, now reside in London Ontario. Declining health in recent years has prevented him from pursuing his Clan and other academic research, but he is pleased that his contributions over the years have been appreciated by Clan Macpherson.

BRANCH CONSTITUTION

onstitutions are not normally considered an exciting part of life unless you are a lawyer or like to read erudite text. However in the interest of consistency and good governance it is important to have the objectives and rules governing an organization written down for reference by those who are charged by the membership with managing its operation. Last year the Council tabled an update to the Canadian Branch Constitution and asked for comments from our membership at large, and approval from the CMA Council in Scotland. The amendments were subsequently adopted at the Annual General meeting in Brantford this year. The final approved and adopted Constitution may be found at the Canadian Branch member's private space on the Clan website at https://www.clan-macpherson.org/canada/membersdocs/membersonly2017.html

Have a good read!

FROM THE DESK OF THE EDITOR

By Mark F Macpherson

fter eleven volumes of the Green Banner and ten years of publication it is time to pass the Editor torch to an up and coming competent new person. I have enjoyed immensely my term as Editor and I am pleased that our newsletter has gone from one page at the beginning of 2007 with the Editor dong most of the writing, to an average of 12 pages with many contributors, not only from the Canadian Branch, but also from our other branches around the world. This support is invaluable for an interesting newsletter.

I realized that I was getting a little long in the tooth and it was time to hang up my skates. I welcome John House as our new Editor for the Green Banner. John's life experience as a senior police official and his keen interest in learning new things through formal and informal studies, makes him an idea person to take on this role. I know he will be afforded the support I received over the years from our Association to produce a first-rate product for the Canadian Branch.

We have two new contributors for the November issue in Danna Fitton and Reverend James Small, who submitted two excellent family-oriented stories. Our flying Macpherson, James G McPherson, told us about the reunion at McPherson's School at which he passed his elementary years. John Barton gave us a short introduction into Macpherson tartans, a topic that should interest all of us, as it is important to our identity as Scots and Clansmen.

MILITARY HERITAGE MUSEUM

By June Macpherson

ith Saturday afternoon free at the Gathering, and many choices as to what to do, Mark and I decided to visit the Canadian Military Heritage Museum in Brantford. I knew Mark would enjoy it but I wasn't too sure I would. However the museum had been established by and is run completely by volunteers. As a dedicated volunteer myself I was really astonished and impressed by what they had accomplished.

The museum was contained in a very large building the size of two football fields. It covered Canadian military history from the 1700's to the present day and we were very lucky to have a most knowledgeable volunteer to guide us through the museum. Mark and I have visited the Canadian War Museum in Ottawa which, of course, had millions of dollars lavished on it and indeed it is very memorable, but what these volunteers had achieved without government assistance was equally impressive.

A former Canadian Army signal officer visiting the World War II era signal office exhibit.

As one progressed from very early maps depicting battles that took place in the 18th century, to a mock-up of a dugout in World War I, and a signal office in World War II, it was easy to see the loving care which had been devoted to making this a truly interesting place to visit. There were weapons on display for each period, from old muskets to a 19th century Gatling gun, an early form of machine gun, to a collection of field artillery pieces and vehicles from the second world war.

As a librarian at our local community library in Hemmingford, I was interested in the collection of military books that had been donated by the public.

On a more personal note, one saw many plaques noting the names of service men from the area who had died in battle. These plaques had been rescued from area churches, which had been put to other uses. This museum is a fitting place to honor our Canadian soldiers.

EASTERN CANADA REGION

Ry John C House MOM FSA Scot Councillo

am honoured to accept the position as Councillor for Eastern Canada and Editor of the Green Banner. I hope to be able to continue the high standard that Mark has achieved with this publication. I look forward to his continuing involvement in the future.

I am aware that there are many Macphersons residing in eastern Canada. I am considering different ways that we can encourage increased interest in the Clan Macpherson Association in the region. I hope we in the Eastern Canada Region can get together for a local event. I will be contacting you in the future to discuss our options.

Eastern Canada Region includes the three maritime provinces and Newfoundland-Labrador.

OUEBEC AND EASTERN ONTARIO

By Myles G Macpherson CD., Regional Councillor

am certain that we have all been enjoying life over this past summer and hopefully not working too hard. The Canadian Branch was reorganized at the AGM this year to replace Provincial Councillors with Regional Councillors. Although this doesn't change much for our Region, in order to get more activity I will be looking for help to contact all of the members in the region and assist me to organize a local event. The two main centres in which I will be looking for help are Montreal and Ottawa. Suggestions are welcome.

I am looking forward to some interesting Scottish activities coming up over the coming months. If any Clan Macpherson folk would like to join me, this would be a great opportunity to get to know one another better and meet at an event held in our area. Please contact me at my home phone 514-693-9920 and we will work out the details to meet up:

- 11 Nov There is always a military parade in downtown Montreal. I plan to visit the parade and go to a pub nearby after the ceremonies;
- Burn's Night Dinner I plan to attend the St Andrew's Society event on 25 Jan 2018; and
- Maxville Highland Games and Montreal Highland Games – these two events will take place on the weekend of 3-5 August 2018.

I hope to hear from you soon.

The Quebec and Eastern Ontario Region includes the Province of Quebec and eastern Ontario to Colborne and the Ottawa Valley.

WESTERN CANADA REGION

By Robert T MacPherson Councillor

s the new Regional Councillor for Western Canada, I thought I'd better get busy with some news. I would like to first thank the outgoing Alberta Provincial Councillor, Don Pearson of Calgary, for his efforts over the last few years.

I hope to be able to stir up some more interest out here in the west for our Clan. It is a challenge, to be sure. I would also thank the Clan Macpherson Association for its confidence in me to represent our Clan in the prairies.

I attended the Canmore Highland Games on September 3 and found them to be one of the best they have put on. This was very re-assuring as the announcement in December 2016 was that the existing Scottish Festival Society would no longer be putting on the games due to a lack of volunteers to help organize the games. Then in late spring a local Canmore developer Frank Kernick, stepped up and offered major sponsorship as well as administrative and volunteer support to the games through the new Malcolm Scottish Society. Frank was named Honorary Chieftain for the day for his efforts.

Piping competition at Canmore

King Malcolm III of Scotland was also known as Malcolm Canmore (Canmore meaning 'big head' or 'chief' – not head size!). The town was named for him so it is very fitting that these great highland games are held here nestled in the Rocky Mountains of Alberta.

Alberta also has Highland Games in Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton, Grande Prairie and Okotoks, so you can see that there is lots of interest in Scottish culture in Alberta. Hopefully, I will put in an appearance with our clan tent at some of these events in 2018 and encourage interest in our Association as well

The Western Canada Region comprises the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta.

CENTRAL ONTARIO REGION

By Janet Ann MacPherson Councillor

s the new Councilor for Central Ontario which is the core of the Canadian Branch and is also the largest region with 50 members, I was honored to be asked to take on this position on the Branch Council. I must confess that I am a little apprehensive at the responsibility I have taken on for Clan Macpherson.

To make Central Ontario a successful Region for CMA, I will need help from the members especially those who have experience in organizing activities and events. On reading the report for the recent member survey undertaken by Council during the past year I see that the members want more events in the regions beyond just the Annual Gathering. Also there were many good ideas offered by the members who responded to the survey.

I hope to contact all of the members in the Region to determine what sort of activities will be supported. To do this I will be asking some members to help me make the contacts and organize the events. If we work together we will be successful and the Association will work better for all of us.

The Central Ontario Region consists of the Greater Toronto area and the province from Cobourg in the east to Hamilton Niagara in the west and north to Georgian Bay.

ONTARIO WEST REGION

By F Roderick Smith Councillor

s the newly elected Councillor for Ontario West, I am hoping that we can have a few events during the year apart from the annual Branch Gathering, where CMA members in the area can enjoy each other's company. I am planning to organize a clan picnic at Bingeman Park in Kitchener. Bingeman's has an excellent water park as well picnic and camping areas; so that CMA members may want to bring children and grandchildren as may be the case. The park can be seen at www.bingemans.com, comments and suggestions are welcome.

There is also the possibility of a dinner /theatre evening at the Dunfield Theatre in Cambridge (Galt) which is an excellent facility with a number of respectable places to eat nearby. The theatre can be seen at www.draytonentertainment.com. I would invite those interested to get in touch with me. I look forward to contacting and meeting as many CMA members in our area in the not-to-distant future.

Ontario West Region includes Hamilton Niagara, Western Ontario, and Northwestern Ontario.
